1. Title of the Practice

IMBIBE & INSCRIBE

2. Goal

Situated in a part of the state which is deficient in metropolitan or even urban amenities to a great extent, retarded in terms of communication and scopes of upgradation, we have to strive in order not to lose our focus on our goal which is to keep pace with or run abreast with the prevalent waves of academic advancements. That is why we have given much emphasis on publication—Be it through arranging seminars with its concomitant part of publishing the proceedings or in the form of publishing, annually, our peer reviewed journal The Prism (ISSN- 2229-7537).

3. The Context

The remoteness of our place often poses many hindrances in obtaining the consent of our desired resource persons to attend our seminars. Apart from this the UGC-sponsored seminars pose no other challenge. But the publication of our journal is often thwarted by funds-crisis. To cope with this challenge we have to resort to requesting our college-authority for providing us with the required amount of money or selling copies of our journal. But we have so far adhered to what we have ever wanted to provide us with — a perpetuating and effective forum to express ourselves. It will not be irrelevant to add that we have always made our students an integral part of our seminars. the college also patronizes the publication of 'Diganta', a magazine exclusively for our students.

4. The Practice

Prior to 2011 we organised seminars with the help of the college fundings, predominantly. But from 2011 onwards we have organised a flurry of state level seminars and national seminars with funding from UGC. Though our institutional endeavours have not ceased to exist totally. Consequently ever since 2011 this academic onus on our part manifested itself in the form of publication of books (proceedings). i)Paschyata O Rabindranath, ii)Vivekananda on Education, iii)Problems of Providing Quality Education in Rural Colleges, iv)Evolution of Bengali Theatre in Accordance with Western Theatre: Colonial and Post-Colonial Perspectives v)Gandhi and Peace, vi)Sarat Chandra Notun Onneswaner Aloy, vii)Contribution of Education in Employment and Earnings are some of our published seminar proceedings many of which has been appreciated by resource persons, scholars and teacher-delegates from different colleges and universities. Our journal The Prism was first published in 2005 as a multi- disciplinary, bilingual journal. In 2011 we procured for it the ISSN. From 2012 our journal has been published as a Peer-Reviewed journal. The most heartening fact about our journal is that it has turned out to be an ideal forum for us to express our studies and thinking. we invite articles by using our website and ask teachers and research-scholars from different colleges and universities to send the soft copies of their articles in a specified format to our journal email Id which is prismmgc@gmail.com. After being shortlisted by our Editorial Board those articles are redirected to our peer-reviewers who select articles for publication. Our journal has been a repository of articles on various literary and social issues so far and as a multi-disciplinary journal it caters to readers of varying tastes. Notwithstanding our journal running rather appreciably, we have a plan for diversifying our publication to incorporate homogeneity to some extent in the nature of articles published. We, in future, would like to publish one journal for each of Humanities, Science and Commerce streams. But in this respect funds will definitely emerge as the stumbling block. To sort out this crisis we are working on the plan of generating a substantial fund through subscriptions for annual or life-long membership to sustain the publication. We also sell copies of our journal and earn some amount of money to ensure a part of the total costing of the next issue. So far the college authority has never failed to complement our collection with the rest of the required amount.

5. Evidence of Success

The number of paper-presenters in our UGC sponsored National and State-Level seminars is a clear indication to the fact that we have been able to draw interest of a good number of scholars, not only from inside our district, but from other districts and states, both from colleges and universities. Consequently the proceedings we have published so far contain good number of articles. Some of the publications have been appreciated by distinguished scholars. A hearty 'Thank You' is due to the NAAC Peer Team of 2008. For till that visit we had not yet organized a single UGC Sponsored seminar, though we had organized a good number of internal seminars. On the other hand our journal, 'The Prism' (ISSN-2229-7537) is an esteemed forum in the entire district for all of them who think of venting their ideas to readers who they think would appreciate their work. Every year the inbox of the mail Id of 'The Prism' find articles from a good number of teachers and scholars from different colleges and universities throughout the state of West Bengal. Even with a firm conviction in the saying that 'one's best can always be bettered', we take this response from paper-writers as an encouraging evidence of our success. And there is no denying the fact that the encouragement that the journal received in its nascent state from the NAAC Peer Team in 2008 has really been the motivating factor for us trying to sustain this academic venture.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Our distance from the major cities always makes any of the ventures we undertake more costly than it would have been otherwise. Conveyance and lodging absorb a bulk of our allotments. This distance often is the reason why many of our desired resource-persons do not find it convenient to respond to our invitation. This money-matter often thwarts the publication of our annual journal, a venture which we have so far managed to protect. A regular funding from UGC toward the sustenance of this journal and a most desirable diversification of it in different streams would really be appreciated. Again, for a rural college like ours shortage of man-power is a persistent factor which like a negative catalyst affects an accumulation of problems with the inevitable increase in our activities. The joining of some teachers of late will presumably mitigate this problem. We have also applied for more teaching posts.

A very superficial viewing of our campus will instantly reveal to an onlooker the absence of political murals. This we have been able to implement stringently. A very cordial relationship between teachers and students along with a thirst to know beyond what are prescribed for us, we arrange annual Departmental tours with much enthusiasm. Our academic ventures in the form of 'The Prism' (ISSN-2229-7537), different Seminar Proceedings, or students' creative venture in the form of the magazine, 'Diganta' are complemented with wall magazines of various departments. In this connection we can mention the name of SAMAY, the wall magazine of Bengali department or Mural Mind, the wall magazine of English department. Since ours is a rural college, a large students are from the weaker section of the society, therefore we have a poor boys fund to provide financial assistance to the students. We also encourage various cultural and other competitions to develop the overall atmosphere of our campus. From this academic year we have adopted the online mode for admission and executed the entire procedure successfully.

1. Title of the Practice:

Remedial Coaching .

2. Goal :

To facilitate students from various backward classes with extra classes and study materials.

3. The Context:

Being 1st Generation learners many of our students suffer from a lack of rudimentary knowledge of any given subjects. It makes the teaching process unduly difficult. Remedial coaching steps in to complement what they already know with what they should know.

4. The Practice:

This facility is primarily for the SC, ST, OBC students. At the onset of the Academic Year we invite applications from the seemingly deserving candidates. We divide all applicants into several segments to suit the convenience of our teaching faculties. We have for them a different library set up altogether .

5. Evidence of Success:

As most of the students belong to the formative stage academically, we are not in a position yet to set for ourselves a target on the basis of the success of our students in Higher Education. Never the less this facility has brought down the drop out rate quite encouragingly. In case of our Honours students it can be said that Remedial Coaching has proved to be effective. it has also been observed that some students of our target communities have excelled in the University Examination. Besides it is also evident that a good number of students who have got admitted to M.A. Courses, have been benefited from this course.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Upto the academic year 2012-13 this scheme was funded by the UGC and that did not let us suffer from the paucity of funds. But the IQAC convinced the teachers to carry on the task of catering the services to the needy students even after financial aid from the UGC was stopped. This selfless gesture from the teachers made remedial coaching one of our two best practices.
