CONCEPT NOTE

Human Rights are universal rights of all human beings, regardless of race, color, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status. Originally mentioned in the UDHR passed by the UNGA On 10th December, the day is celebrated as World's Human Rights Day. India on the other hand, established The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) on 12th Oct, 1993. However, the democratic fabric since inception has been challenged by several factors like poverty, inequality, gender disparities, extra-judicial killings, suppression of freedom of expression, development at the cost of livelihood, stifling of voices of marginal people, negation of the secular ethic, that has brought Justice into shambles. India has also witnessed several identity assertion movements with vibrant civil society that continues to act as an armour to protect Human Rights apart from formal institutional set up. Therefore, the seminar aims to identify the core challenges to human rights in India and the possible avenues that can represent the true ethos of human rights advocacy.
